20th Century Napoleon

You've read in your history books and in countless biographies and magazine articles of Napoleon, the dynamic French adventure of the 19th century who rode roighshod over most of Europe, carving for himself a huge slice of power, empire and a never-to-be-forgotten niche in history.

ne-torgotten inche in history.
Today, whether you like it or not, you are watching # 20th century Napoleon in the making. From time to time you read in the newspapers how this modern Napoleon is rising to power, defying the world, riding roughshol over Europe. His name is Adolf Hitler.
Then, Hitler's testing as National States.

Hitler.

True, Hitler's tactics are different from Napoleon's who seized power and empire by military might, brave deeds and a new kind of cannon-blasting, fast-moving battle strategy. Hitler threatens, bluffs and wanders, exercises. gles to get what he wants. But he gets there gas to get what an evants. But he gets there just the same.

After all, methods change with the times, but the fundamental dynamic personality and lust for power has been the changeless essence of the Napoleonic spirit from the days of Alexander days of Alexander.

Don't overlook Hitler. He's making world history—one-man world history, for the first time in more than a hundred years.

You'll recall from reading your history books that Napoleen's uncontrollable lust for power, even after he had carved an empire and established a dynasty- finally brought him to his Waterloo.

In that, too, Hitler will probably follow in the footsteps of Napoleon. But not yet, And when that time comes, there will be a fateful difference for the world. For when Hitler finally reaches his Waterloo, the death-struggle of his "empire" will rock civilization.

A Rich Tourist Harvest

Get ready for the biggest tourist travel eason you've ever seen.

Early returns from Washington's $100,000

ourist advertising campaign already show remendous interest in this state's scenic and ther attractions and forecast record tourist travel during the coming summer.

travel during the coming summer.

The state progress commission, which is directing the advertising campaign, reveals that thousands of inquiries have been received in response to the first few advertisements in national magazines. Much interest is being shown in the Olympic Peninsula, along with Mt. Rainier, Puget Sound, Coulee Dam and Mt. Risker Dam and Mt. Baker

James A. McCluskey of Spokane, member the commission, predicts commission, predicts there will be than twice as many visitors to the state this year than in previous years.

That's good news for Bremerton. Many thousanda of these, visitors will come our way. It's up to this city to roll up its sleeves and go to work to make sure we get our and go to work to make sure share of this rich tourist harvest.

If you ask Jack Goodwin, manager if you ask Jack Goodwin, manager of the local Woolworth store, he may tell you about a setter which he revolved last week. But he wornt divulge the name of the woman who sent it, because abe requested "no publicity" about her deed.

The letter came from a patient in a tuberculosis assultarium hereabouts. Enclosed in the envelope was a sollar bill. She'explained something like thig...

"Five years ago, I stole $1.50 worth of dress goods from the Woolworth store in Bremerton. My husband and I now are both suffering from tuber-cuoiss at the amintarium here, and wine reperting for our past ains. I have succeeded in saving one dollar, and will send you the other 10 cuts as soon as I can earn it in some manner. Goodwin did just what you would have done in such a case. He returned the dollar to the woman, asked her to forget about the debt and wished her an early recovery from her lilines.
