A valuable ally to British is Itale Selassie, who calls himself the Conquering Lion of Judah, who is shown at left with British officers inspecting Ethiopian troops armed with British guns. The Emperor of Ethiopia is seen, in his country, stirring revolt, and planning sweet revenge on Italians who used tanks and planes to defeat his brave tribesmen in 1935. (Passed by British censor.)

HEART ATTACK TAKES M'ADOO

World War Treasury Head Succumbs At Age of 77

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. (UP)—William Gibbs McAdoo, former senator from California and World War secretary of treasury, died today from a heart attack. He was 77.

Mrs. McAdoo, 26, whom the former senator married in 1928 after he was divorced by Mrs. Eleanor McAdoo, daughter of President Woodrow Wilson, was at the bedside. Also present was one of his daughters, Mrs. Brice Clagett.

McAdoo suffered a heart attack during the night and a physician was called. Death occurred shortly after 10 a. m. in the McAdoo apartment in the Shoreham hotel. Friends said he had been well recently and that the attack came on suddenly. Only Wednesday, McAdoo had a conference with President Roosevelt.

McAdoo was born at Marietta, Ga., Oct. 31, 1863. He was educated at the University of Tennessee and admitted to the bar when he was 22.

He became prominent nationally in 1912 when he was elected to the Democratic National convention. He was one of the first to back Wilson for the presidential nomination.

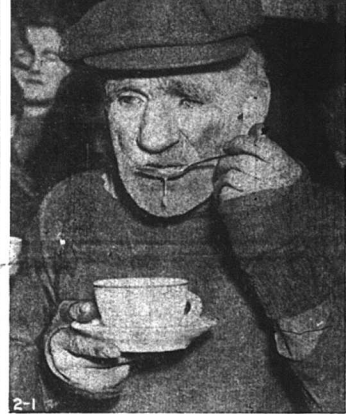

Wilson appointed McAdoo to his cabinet as secretary of treasury in 1913. He served as secretary during the World War and resigned in 1919. During the war, while heading the treasury, he also served as director-general railroads.

McAdoo was a member of the National Geographic Society and the American Historical Association. He was also a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

What This Picture Tells...

Thomas Kavanagh of Belfast, Ireland, age 78, able seaman on the S. S. Langleyman, has been spending a few days at the Seaman's Institute in New York.

Here he is seen taking his spot of tea, without which an Englishman is not a real Englishman.

"Give me my tea and the British navy," said the hoary old tar, "and all is O. K. with the world, as you Yankees express it."

When asked how much longer he expects to work as a sailor, he said: "till that bloomin' 'blighter' 'tiler 'as henough!"

Defense Board Will Study Plans for Alaska Highway

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. (UP)—Early consideration by the joint U. S.-Canadian defense commission of the proposed U. S.-Alaskan highway and a proposed inland air route to Alaska appears likely today.

A group of senators and representatives following the projects met with Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia, New York chairman of the commission, yesterday to request aid in establishing the routes in the interest of defense.

One member of the group said that, in connection with the highway, a major point to be considered was the division of costs between this country and Canada.

It is recognized, he said, that Canada's war effort makes it impossible for her to supply sufficient funds to build any of the project, and the entire amount would have to be advanced by this government. If this view were held, guarantees would be demanded of Canada that the highway would always be available to American use.

Congressmen attending the conference were Rep. Pat Boland, Dem., Pa.; Sens. Mon C. Wallgren, Dem., Wash., and Scott Lucas, Dem., Ill.; and Rep. Warren G. Magnuson, Dem., Wash., chairman of the Alaskan International highway commission.

Remark of F. D. Burns Wheeler

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. (UP)—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, Dem., Mont., a leading opponent of the administrators' British aid bill, today accused President Roosevelt of making "a desperate attempt to divert the money to Germany unilaterally for American peace against the entry of the U. S. into any foreign war."

The senator said it was "absolutely false" that he had said "in 1934 or at any other time that Nazi domination of Europe was inevitable."

Mr. Roosevelt at his press conference yesterday, in response to questions about an impending magazine article, said the late William F. Doolittle, former ambassador to Germany, had told him Wheeler made such a statement.

The magazine article, containing extracts from Doolittle's diary, will be issued by an unidentified senator as making that statement.

Wheeler, in a statement issued through his office, said that he never had attended the dinner at which Doolittle was supposed to have made the remark.

BUS SYSTEM IS TIED BY STRIKE

HONOLULU, T. H. Feb. 1. (UP)—Two hundred A.P.L. employes of the Honolulu Rapid Transit Co. struck today, tying up the city's transportation system.

Edison E. Kirk, general manager of the transit company, said he would appeal to the court to operate the system with bus and street-car service.

The first train failed to signal properly when it stopped for water. The second train crashed into the rear of the train ahead.

An engine was wrecked and a caboose and one loaded lumber car were demolished. The collision occurred at 6:45 a. m.

F. D. Okehs Larger Annapolis Classes

ANNOUNCEMENT

Effective today, the home-delivered circulation rate of The Bremerton Sun will be increased to 60 cents per month.

This increase is one which the management of your newspaper is making reluctantly, but which is deemed necessary because of rising costs of production, composition and distribution.

A large share of this 10 cents per month price increase will enhance the earnings of your carrier boy. Each of The Sun's 40 loyal delivery boys will receive a substantial boost in profits.

With each succeeding month, The Bremerton Sun subscriber is receiving more newspaper for his money.

In 1940, The Sun carried 612 more pages than in 1939. The Sun carried more than 3,000 additional columns of news matter in 1940 over 1939.

In announcing the new home-delivered circulation policy, the management of The Sun takes this opportunity to reaffirm the pledge made when this newspaper was born July 15, 1935, to cover the news field honestly, impartially and accurately.

State Legislature Lacks Leadership

By ARTHUR L. SCHOENFELT, Feb. 1. (UP)—The Olympia legislature reached the 20th day mark of its 60-day session today with both Senate and House in recess. Here is the box score:

Rolls approved and signed by Gov. Langley—3.

Since the third day of the session, when he was inaugurated, Governor Langley has kept his hands off the legislature, waiting for them to finish their underwork sparring and come forth with leaders who can and will help carry out his legislative program.

Neither Lieut. Gov. Victor A. Meyers nor Speaker Edward J. Kelly has moved to take control of his respective house. The strong Democratic majorities in both houses are canvassing for leadership, while ambitious legislators seek control to whip a majority into line.

In contrast to Governor Martin, Kelly has called strong blows to push his program past-riding opposition. Langley has made no move yet to line up with any faction in the house or senate.

The governor probably is awaiting a close-knit majority staff and in getting across his tax and government reorganization program.

His bill, which has yet to be passed, has yet to be passed. This is more accidental than intentional.

He was prepared to file his bill in the afternoon. He was on the verge of putting

KEENE'S BILL SIGNED TODAY BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. (UP)—President Roosevelt today signed emergency legislation authorizing the navy to spend $200,000,000 to build 400 auxiliary vessels to expand shipyard, gun and armor production.

The bill was the key measure of the navy's proposed expansion program that was rushed through congress at the urgent request of the navy. Another bill signed yesterday authorized $300,000,000 of aerial defense for the navy. Today's measure authorized the navy to:

Build 400 submarine chasers, plus sweepers and midget torpedo boats. The navy said 228 of these craft this year in Great Lakes shipyard.

Contract for shipyard facilities to build these vessels in the next few years. Another bill signed yesterday authorized $300,000,000 of aerial defense for the navy.

FIVE BIRTHDAY BALLS TONIGHT

With the advance sale of tickets assuring crowded dance floors in five halls and pavilions in Kitsap county, the climax of the 1941 campaign for funds to fight influenza paralysis will be reached tonight. Thousands of tickets have been sold and the dimes are pouring in to the committee headquarters.

Boy and Girl Scouts are canvassing throughout the county today for dimes and are meeting with great success. An excellent report has been received from the Puget area navy yard on donations by the workers.

Dances will be held tonight in the Kingston Grange hall, Port Maury's pavilion, American Legion hall, Hotel auditorium and the Colby Grange hall.

Aside from the public dances, there will be a Birthday Ball also at Craven Center for navy enlisted men, beginning at 8:30. A floor show will be presented at 10 o'clock, and one of the features will be the finale of a "after-bow."

No civilians, other than those who have admitted to the dance before for enlisted personnel, officers, their dependents and families.

The 50-cent tickets, available at the entrance, also will be honored at the two other local Birthday Balls. There is no charge for ladies.

KNOX 'WORRIED' ABOUT BRITAIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1. (UP)—Secretary of Navy Frank Knox, today said that he was "tremendously worried" over Britain's chances of winning the war, said today that the "odds would be against us" if the U. S. had to face a victorious Axis alone.

Testifying again before the senate foreign relations committee in support of the administration's British-aid bill, Knox was asked by Sen. Gerald P. Nye, Rep. N. D., whether he thought the situation would be "hopeless" for this country if Germany won.

"We would have to strain every nerve, and I think I would be against us," Knox replied.

He told Nye that if the Axis were victorious the "best we could do would be to make our own coast safe from attack. He added that the defeat of Britain would give the Axis shipbuilding facilities exceeding those of the U. S. by 700 per cent.

"Knox said that besides being 'tremendously worried' over Britain's prospects he was also 'tremendously worried' over the American aid would reach her in time.

Anson Weeks, Band Leader, Is Injured

MARENGO, Iowa, Feb. 1. (UP)—Anson Weeks, nationally known orchestra leader, suffered a fractured left arm and head injury today in a highway accident on a two-lane highway.

Carl Knauer, Chicago, and Harold Holman, Chicago, members of his orchestra, were less seriously hurt.

The bus in which they were riding collided with the wreckage of a truck that had crashed on the highway.
