The Bremerton Sun

JUS GIUS, Editor
A. F. OTTEVAERE, Business Is bislands every day except Sunday by The Bremerton Co. 644 Fourth Street, Bremerton, Wash. Teleph of as second class matter July 22, 1933, at the post-ton, Washington, under Act of March 3, 1878.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By carrier, 55 cents-per month. By SUBSCRIPTION RATES: By carrier, 65 cents-per month. By in Kitasp county, $2.00 per year, $1.25 for six months, 75 cents three months. 50 cents for one month. In the state of Washing three months. 50 cents for month, $1.00 for three which $1.50 for six months are some month, $1.50 for three months. $1.50 for six months are month, $1.50 for three months. $1.00 for me year, payable in advance, $1.00 for me year, $1.00 for me year,

OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER, THE COUNTY OF KITSAP

OFFICAL SERVICE WHILE THE BEAUTY OF THE BETTER THE SERVICE STATE OF THE BEAUTY OF THE SERVICE STATE OF THE SERVICE

Bremerton and the Future

There isn't a day passes that newcomers don't arrive in Bremerton, attracted by the defense work here. Each brings with him a fresh opinion of our city and of national and world conditions.

And it is by such opinions, such comparisons as may be offered, that we can judge ourselves.

With the growth of Bremerton and Puget Sound navy yard, our public relations job toward the outside world becomes bigger and bigger. We happen to be on the creat of prosperity and growth; we could say that we don't care what others think of us—but that's a short-sighted view. We can never expect to hold our enviable position unless we not correctly only to practice. put ourselves out to practice good relations with the rest of Washington and the nation

The Sun has nothing definite to offer in the way of a suggestion for improving our "front" as far as the visiting public and other communities are concerned. But we do feel that more thought should be given to this matter new while we are enjoying prosperity rather than to wait until our position is less enviable and we need definite assistance from the outside.

Lessons From Singapore

There can be no blinking at the fact that the loss of Singapore was a major defeat—a setback that probably will prolong the war and make it increasingly difficult for the United Nations to find a strong point from which the Jap anese attack can be rolled back.

The *Round Towner: Mrs. A. H. downtown spot that has bootha A large sign proanese attack can be rolled back.

Singapore was a great base, a mighty fortress and a mighty symbol; and yet, because it was all these things and more, too, its loss points up several leasons which we here at home must learn. We know the men at the front already know these leasons, that they are waiting only for the day lend to the control of the most learn. We know the men at the front already know these leasons, that they are waiting only for the day lend to the control of the most learn. We know the men at the front already know these leasons, that they are waiting only for the day lend to the second of the most learn. We have the second of the most learn of the men they, and not the axis solder seems to the newspaper headlines and the newspaper headlines. Singapore's loss meant a new crisis for China. The Chinese have withstood five years of such crises—they have contenting the Eastpark apartment—IL Exemple the second of the second of the such contents and the second of the sec

Aussies have willingly faced unings.

They will meet this challenge, too.

All these people have learned, as we are learning, that defeats such as Singapore must stimulate rather than stup the war efforts of all of us. Singapore—as with the Maginot line—has proven that strong points alone to not win a war, we must have more planes, more ships, more men, less complacency, less self-satisfaction but more determination confidence. We must take the offensive everywhere.

It just makes the job bigger and tougher. But it also makes it increasingly imperative that the job be done successfully.

The provided the other day, the successfully is also makes and profile will start to live sandy like they did when the horse and buggy were in style."

May not be so much saimless running the provided when the horse and buggy were in style. They will be so much saimless running the provided when the horse and buggy were in style. They will be so much saimless running the provided when the horse and buggy were in style. They will be so much saimless running the provided when the horse and buggy were in style. They will be so much saimless running and profile will start to live analy like they did when the horse and buggy were in style. They will be so much saimless running and profile will start to live analy like they did when the horse and buggy were in style. They will be so much saimless running the profile and the profile will be so much saimless running the profile will be so much saimless run

ANSWER. SOS. the call of distress

KEEP 'EM ROLLING! ASIS VOLUNTARY PLAN FOR PAYROL PURCHASE DEFENSE BONDS

Round town with the Round Towner: Mrs. A. H. Parker entering her 7th st. home-H. J. Haskell in Manette-M. Tate greeting a friend-W. L. (Bill)

ness have willistood live years us swith the seem have after base fall, and they still fight on.

For the Dutch, too, it has brought new difficulties. Yet nearly two years ago the nazi hordes blotted out the Dutch motherland, and still the Dutch fight on with a courage and skill that cheers the civilized world.

For the British, it means the loss of another vital link in their empire lifeline. Yet many such links have been lost; the British are still in the battle.

For the Australians it means increasing peril. Yet the For the Australians it means increasing peril. Yet the Australians it is a fail to the Australians it alians the will in the Australians it alians the peril and the Australians it alians the Australians it

ADVICE IN THE TAVENNS
We get a kick out of reading signs in various foints around town—the old timers like "In God
We Trust, All Others Pay Cash". "Credit
Makes Esemiles, Let's Be Prients". "Free
Drinks Tomorrow". . . etc. . etc.
But one that came to our attention is in a downtown spot that has booths. A large sign pro-claims. "Our Rooming House License Expired January I, Please Do Not Sieep in the Booths." "children's Screen celeb

Annuary I, Please Do Not Sleep in the Bootha.

HOW TRUE:

We thumbed through one of our college pournals into books the other day and found the followers and street of the college pournals into germ, once published in the Wichita Beacon, when the appears and the college pournals into germ, once published in the Wichita Beacon, but we must have read it as a student but we weren't so impressed as we are now, when it appears no typical of an experience we've had more than one bootting high income taxes of the college production of outy present published by the college production of outy fresh that if they realize it might apply to them.

Hello, is this the process. American and lost us the first year
war

If this sort of thing continues,
what will happen to public morale
in this country? Are we in war or are we merely playing politics?

"Hello, is this the reporter?"
"This is one of the reporters."
"Well, I want the reporter who writes the articles for the paper"

"This is one of the reporters who writes news

"Well, I want the reporter who writes the articles for the paper."

This is one of the reporters who writes new for the paper. I never when the paper with the paper with the paper when the paper with the paper with the paper will, I want to put an article in the paper. Have you got your pendir ready?"

"Yes, I'm all ready?"

"Yes, we should treat the Jape in the way I want it when the paper. I never when the paper will all liberty with the pole will be a should not forget that there is very rich. These two prominent Wichita ledge will return in three months to their mansion. Now read that back to me.

"Just took down notes. I don't take it verbatim—"I just took down notes. I don't take it verbati

In Hollywood By Jimmie Fidler

| Add habitual gum-chewers: Prisciffs Lass. | Add habitual gum-che

all depends on the eventual need for manpower.

But in glanding through old more recognitive to the control of the control of

Hold Everything by Josh

"Why should I live in a tent when I own that?"

CHAPTER XXXIV

IN a few minutes, they emerged form the tunnel onto a ledge on the side of the clift. First kept his flashight on.

Thus her down and muttle men should be flashed written he ordered the share to climb down from here her to her, trembling with neround have to climb down from here here to her, trembling with neround have so climb down from here here to her, trembling with neround her stood up and patient the part is her mouth. The softed was to come the part of the cave. She draw the cox her draw the cox here draw t

have to climb down from here nersett Pom Aan had been unbound the stood up and patient the gas in the mouth.

"Oh, no!" Brit scoffed. "Not yet!

"Oh, no!" Brit scoffed. "Not yet!

"Oh, no!" Brit scoffed. "Not yet!

"Bell you down you had not yet out the power of with interest, the saw Polores separate benefit from a Troup of people with interest, the saw Polores separate benefit from a Troup of people with interest, the saw Polores separate benefit from a Troup of people with the saw Polores separate benefit from a Troup of people with the saw Polores separate benefit from a Troup of Polores and Troup

