

GREYHOUNDS WALLOP EAGLES 19 TO 0 IN BENEFIT CONTEST

SECOND WIN FOR 'HOUNDS

Locals Fail to Threaten San Benito's Goal Line Seriously

(Special to The Herald)

SAN BENITO, Dec. 10.—The San Benito Greyhounds proved that an early season victory over the Brownsville Eagles was no fluke by scoring 19-to-0 victories in a charity contest here Monday night. The Hounds played unbeaten, and the Eagles who avowed they were functioning smoothly to overwhelm the Eagles whom they took into camp, 12 to 6, at Brownsville in the first game.

One of the highlights of the game was the accurate passing by Kennedy as well as his running and blocking. He had a fine passing of his career. His mate Morgan, again did some fancy driving through the line and pulled off a 44-yard run. One of the surprising things to Coach Brown must have been the work of some of the second string players. The Hounds held the Brownsville boys in check almost as well as did the starters.

Guardian of the Brownsville attack. He took most of the kicks off, making accurate returns and otherwise acquitting himself well. McAlpin, who had a 44-yard and a 56-yard pass to Quintero, McNair did most of the passing for Brownsville boys in check almost as well as did the starters.

The first score came late in the first quarter. About the middle of the period San Benito got a 10 yards to the 40, and then went over for an exchange of punts. Kennedy over for a first down on the Brownsville 44, and then ran 10 yards to the 34. Morgan helped make another first down on the Brownsville 22. Another short pass helped move the ball to the 10, and then the Brownsville nine. Helling went over for the counter. Kennedy passed to Cantu for point. Even though the ball was fumbled, it was recovered by the Hounds. The fact that neither side made a first down, San Benito gained on an exchange of punts but Hinckley recovered a San Benito fumble in the Brownsville 22. Another end of the half.

Brownsville got off to a good start, but the Hounds, after returning the kickoff 19 yards to the Brownsville 37. A first down put the ball on the Brownsville 48. A short pass to the 44, and then a 10-yard run to the 34. Helling helped make another first down in the Brownsville 20. The likeness is amazing, even to the pompadour haircut.

The youngster, who makes his best bid against Billy Ketchel, of the Joe Louis-Paulino Usciano bout Friday night, stepped up to the plate. He ran up San Benito's ball on her own 41, and Kennedy streaked to the Brownsville 20, the ball then played off the end zone. He ran up 21 yards to the 19 for a touchdown. Try for point failed. Score, 13 to 0. A long pass to the 40, and then a 10-yard run to the first down on the same. Kennedy tossed a 33-yard pass to Morgan, putting the ball on the Brownsville six, and immediately went over for the counter.

The Eagles made a futile attempt to score in the fourth when deep in their own territory. McNair intercepted a pass on the Brownsville 26 but the ball finally went back to the Eagles on their own 22. The Hounds then scored, and the Eagles were forced to kick out and McAlpin, running backwards to

OLYMPIC ROW STILL GOING

Heated Words Fly Between Brundage, Mahoney in New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—(UPI)—Betty lines were drawn definitely Tuesday between backers of American participation in the Olympic games in Germany, setting out to raise funds and opponents who vowed they would do nothing.

Aver Brundage, chairman of the American Olympic committee and new head of the Amateur Athletic Union, called the task of raising expenses of the American athletes a formidable one. Upward of $300,000 is needed to send between 400 and 500 stars to Berlin.

Jeremiah T. Mahoney, who resigned as A. A. U. chairman, was pledged to continue the fight against participation of the United States in the games.

Brundage said it was an issue between principles and dollars. He said he had heard a million dollar "war chest" had been gathered by opponents.

Athletes and committees designated to make arrangements went ahead with setting sailing dates and formulating new ways of raising money.

Brundage insisted that despite the opposition's efforts to stop the games, the sum total of potential benefits factors, the funds would be obtained somehow.

In the last analysis, he said, "With regard to finances, he said before returning to Chicago Monday night.

Heated Words Fly

"We will be glad to have the opposition to the Olympics stay out in the open, where the patriotic people of the country can judge for themselves what they want to know," he said.

"I never saw the son of a b---- like that," he said. "He seems to have inherited his father's cunning and boxing ability. Most fighters' sons inherit their fathers' traits, their dad's except his appetites."

"Young Jack," who has been burning up the west coast, came from a record-making amateur, his father, a famous boxer, and has won 50 consecutive victories.

Development of Football At Pony School Recalled

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of three articles dealing with the growth and development of Southern Methodist history. Southern Methodist University, undefeated Southwest conference team selected to meet Stanford in the Rose Bowl this season.)

By ERICK MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, Dec. 10.—(UPI)—Younger youngsters, destined to become a Southern Methodist University football legend as the "immortal ten," had no idea of the importance of gridiron helmets in 1922 and the seven years victory famine at the Mustang corral had ended.

Ray Morrison, about five years, returned to the campus a wiser young football coach.

After more than five years of analyzing the game, Morrison tutored his "immortal ten" in the art of the forward pass. The starting eleven, a "martial circus" a football tooting troupe which Ringmaster Morrison eventually paraded throughout the nation.

It mattered not little who was the eleventh man in the Methodist ranks, as far as the coach was concerned, to plug the same gap; that all they needed.

The team started with a blank slate, and the coach, a former star, had no better a team in the tough Southwest conference. That opened eyes of the Eastern critics and even the Methodist press.

Side-stepping Alan Rowson, 160-pound halfback, did his believe-it-or-not act that day. Eighty yards, and then another 80 yards, and eight times Rowson obliged with touchdowns. Minced in with his scoring were sprits of 87, 72, 52, 57 and 38 yards.

(Tomorrow: "The athletic circus flies to new heights—finally, the Rose Bowl")

Did Not Letter

His work netted a 51-compact over a highly haphazard Louisiana team, and the fans, who had not received a variety letter that season, injuries dogged him and he was dropped from the team.

Conrad Morris, and his Mustangs, definitely arrived in 1922. They tacked up 29 points against the enemy's nine in an underdog role, and then became the crowned champions of the Southwest conference for the first time.

Their first year, they reached their careers in 1924 by landing in the conference and dropping only two games in the three seasons they banded together.

Out of that stalwart band came Fred (Dutch) McIntosh, taking cognizance of Brundage's reference to the "war chest" did Brundage is quoting nothing but hearsay. I think if there were a million dollars around he is just the right fellow who would be right after it.

"If he thinks I influenced delegates or says I distributed propaganda, he does not understand that he did one thing, I know, nothing about it."

He did not attend the German-American football exhibition in Germany. He exhibited a brief case full of circulars, pamphlets and posters emphasizing the cause of racial and religious discrimination in Germany.

CAGE CONTEST

SAN BENITO, Dec. 10.—The Daily News Five will play the San Benito school faculty at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in the gymnasium.

The DONNA SCHOOL authorities made a strong effort to bring the Regional Championship conflict, but it could not be done and the game will be played at Benito's gymnasium.

Both sides are opposed to this "neutral grounds" boxing. It is easy to understand how these arrangements become inevitable, and the visitors draw more attendance at either Donna or Kenedy than it will at Benito.

The money angle of football is important although objectionable at the present time, but the regional championship cannot make money for a school, there is a vicious circle.

Arrangements are being made to have the game at the gymnasium, and we will see it, and they should be played where they will draw the biggest game receipts.

Heated Words Fly Between Brundage, Mahoney In New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—(UPI)—Battle lines were drawn definitely Tuesday between backers of American participation in the Olympic games in Germany, setting out to raise funds, and opponents who vowed they would give no quarter.

Avery Brundage, chairman of the American Olympic committee and new head of the Amateur Athletic Union, called the task of raising expenses of the American athletes a formidable one. Upward of $300,000 is needed to send between 400 and 500 stars to Berlin.

Jeremiah T. Mahoney, who resigned as A. A. U. chairman, was pledged to continue the fight against participation which his forces lost in the A. A. U. convention.

Brundage called it an "issue between principles and dollars." He said he had heard a million dollar "war chest" had been gathered by opponents.

Athletes and committees designated to make arrangements went ahead with setting sailing dates and formulating new ways of raising money.

Brundage insisted that despite the opposition's efforts to tie knots in the purse strings of potential benefactors, the funds would be obtained somehow.

"In the last analysis, I am not worried about finances," he said before returning to Chicago Monday night.

Heated Words Fly

"We will be glad to have the opposition to the Olympics stay out in the open, where the patriotic people of the country can judge for themselves whether they want to keep sport separated from politics as well as racial or religious issues.

"We do not uphold Nazi Germany. We do uphold the Olympics. I am convinced the mass of people will share my view that the games belong to the athletes.

"I believe they will support the Olympics, on that basis, and that as a matter of fact, anything lost by the tactics of obstructionists will be offset by the support of people wanting fair play in sport."

Tempers flared between Mahoney and Brundage Monday. Mahoney, taking cognizance of Brundage's reference to the "war chest" said:

"I heard about the fund, too, but Brundage is quoting nothing but hearsay. I think if there were a million dollars around he is just the type of fellow who would be right after it.

"If he thinks I influenced delegates or says I distributed propaganda, he is a liar. What the Jews of America did is one thing, I know nothing about it."

Brundage had charged that propaganda had been spread against American participation. He exhibited a brief case full of circulars, pamphlets and posters emphasizing charges of racial and religious discrimination in Germany.
