ATTACKERS OF AMERICAN GET JAIL TERMS

BERLIN, Oct. 17. (AP)—The two assailants of Roland Veltz an American who was struck in the face when he failed to salute the Nazi emblem, were sentenced to six months imprisonment on charges on assault and battery in a so-called speed court here today.

Veltz, a native of Meriden, Conn., was struck twice in the face by the jailer—one a chauffeur, the other a glass blower—at Duesseldorf, Germany.

Blake's attorney Von Hearze of the Prussian ministry of justice, acted as prosecutor. He demanded the six months penalty and the court agreed.

"Others chiefly getting action," Hearze declared in a high American official on learning of the verdict.

The officials who was intimately acquainted with the case, said Veltz is great progress. I consider this the turning point in the treatment of assailants of foreigners.

"The court acted speedily and clearly, even though one of the assailants was a storm trooper."

However, it developed that both assailants were storm troopers—Paul Eckhardt, by profession a glass blower, and Fried Wilhertz, a chauffeur.

Both testified they were greatly excited when according to their ideas Veltz acted irregularly by and contempt for the swastika, the Nazi flag.

Freedom of Press Is Endangered By Code Provisions

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (AP)—E. W. Harris of Richmond, Ind., secretary of the American Newspapers' Association, said today that the constitutional guarantee of the press in the United States is in great danger of "encroachment" under the National Recovery Administration.

Mr. Harris declared the rights have been violated in the agreements entered into for newspaper code under the NRA and he spoke today before the United Press association.

Destroyed in Germany

He asserted that the refusal of the recovery administration to exempt newspapers from the profit and loss provisions of the proposed code, which is intended to safeguard the freedom of the press and the three prohibiting unfairly from organizing non-union newspaper plants where employing do not desire union affiliation—had placed in jeopardy free journalism and free government.

"Journalism has been destroyed entirely in Germany," Harris said.

"In the United States, congress has enacted the National Industrial Recovery act which gives to the government the right to license all forms of industry.

"The newspapers of the United States are now being asked to sign an agreement with the government under the NIRA, which will abridge the right of a free press in this country.

"Organized labor is in command of the NRA and is attempting to organize every department of a newspaper plant, including even the news department.

"The application of a censorship of the press by organized labor is possible if the newspapers submit to the demands of unions as expressed in the NIRA."

Agreement has been reached on every other clause of the newspaper code, Harris reported orally.

Powers Resisted

Resisting the powers given the executive department, of the government by congress in writing the recovery act, Harris asserted:

"Many observers have gone so far as to assert that our constitutional form of government has been discarded. They believe the people of the United States are submitting to these changes because they are in a state of mind in which they will submit to anything in the interest of their fundamental and economic well being. They can't see that with renewed confidence.

"But let us remember that the price we pay for these temporary excellence is too to free government.

"We are now far advanced in this stage of retrogression.

"The associations which the publishers' committee have been carrying on with the government at Washington have proved conclusively that there is a plan under way at Washington—other than set up by the Press Roosevelt's consent—to apply the 'iron' to the newspaper pulse and liberty to force them into line with this movement.

"The committee of 24 published recently, is an example of what is said to be an organization which, not including the two sections, 7 and 14, rejected by the NRA. The controversial clauses read:

Ask Injunction Right

Section 11. In submitting or consenting to this code, the undersigners do not thereby agree to accept or to consent to any terms or requirements that those herein submitted may propose to add to this code, the propriety of any provision or other requirements, or those not specifically stated, or consent to the imposition of any requirements that would restrict or interfere with the constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press.

"Section 14. The right of the employer and the employee to bargain together free from interference by any third party shall not be affected by this code, and nothing herein shall require any employer to join any organization or to refrain from joining any organization in order to secure or retain employment."

Harris said the 24 publishers who had unanimously determined these sections must be included in any newspaper code were guided by the request of the recovery administrator for the elimination of section 11. The government representative, he said, insisted there was no conflict between the proposed wage rate for newspaper field and those adopted for any other industry under consideration. Harris said is the administrative and established by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson that newspapers pay equitable wages. And working hours are not excessively long and that few competent newspaper men are without employment. He asserted, however, evidently discovered that within the code law might be found elements to muzzle the newspapers of this country."

Attorney for Labor

Harris declared that Donald Richberg, attorney for the recovery administration, had specifically demanded the removal of the labor section 14, from the code, and that section 11 be eliminated before consideration.

He will recall that Donald Richberg has been an attorney representing organized labor for many years. Harris said "the evidence was placed in the N.I.R.A. for the purpose of furthering the interests of union organizers.....unless labor with its four million votes sufficiently hopes to control the government at Washington.

"If all newspaper plants are unionized the labor unions virtually would exercise a censorship, because of their power to control the sentiments of the news and editorial policy.

Radio Already Censored

"There is at present a complete censorship of radio broadcasting," Harris asserted. "Because the government has the authority to license stations, it has the right to determine who is to speak over the radio and what he is to say. Under the present administration broadcasting is under indirect governmental censorship through which the fear of the government's power to revoke the license of any station which would permit a speaker before the microphone to criticize a governmental policy....

"The president of the United States or Gen. Johnson may have the use of their broadcasting chain without cost at any time he wants it, but no one who desires to criticize the government will be permitted to use these chains except at his own expense and then only with it under influence on the forces which the broadcasters have it under indirect governmental censorship herself about through the fear of the government's power to revoke the license of any station which would permit a speaker before the microphone to criticize a governmental policy....

Why the Sudden Change to Liquid Laxatives?

Doctors have always recognized the fact that a dose of salts alone does can be measured, and whose action can be controlled.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. It forms no habit; you need not take a "dose" every day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the intestines.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically blended liquid laxative. Its laxative action is based on senna and pepsin. Its pleasant taste will become dependent on this form of relief, and whose action is gentle as all druggists. Member N. R. A.

MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Spots of resistance appeared in the financial markets today.

The stock list started out with indications of repeating most of its substantial losses of the previous session. Recoveries of fractions to more than a point were recorded by many issues.

The steel issues manifested some stiffenings, however, and there was a sizeable reaction around noon. Buying orders again halted the decline and most of the leaders steadied.

Grains were as erratic as stocks. Wheat rallied around 2 cents a bushel, then dropped this and about 2 cents more before finishing unchanged to 1 cent up, but cotton commodities were mixed. Bonds were rather irregular. The dollar eased in foreign exchange dealings.

American Tobacco shares were active at losses of a point or more. Western Union, Johns-Manville, R. Siggett B, Myers B and Kresge also showed about a point.

Moderate gains were registered by Allied Chemical, Du Pont, U. S. Smelting, U. S. Steel, National Distillers, Chrysler, Case, Deere, General Electric and American Commercial Alcohol. Union Pacific and Santa Fe were in supply at one time, but came back when the list firmed.

The government's probable fiscal program and the European situation continued to be the principal subjects of discussion in the financial district. The conviction was that the treasury needs the immediate cooperation of all market factors. As to possible new potentialities ahead, opinion was divided as to just how the American recovery movement might be affected by further unsettlement in Europe.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Cotton had a firm and fairly active opening. Cables were much better than due and sterling exchange was higher, attributed to improvement in the European political news. First trades showed gains of 11 to 14 points, which was hardly in full response to the strength abroad. The market advanced further after the start, however, on good trade buying, short covering and trade and mill buying. Prices rose to 9.38 and March to 9.26, showing gains of 27 to 30 points above yesterday's close.

Later in the first hour, prices reacted 2 to 3 points from the top on a little profit-taking but the undertone continued firm.

Following the slight recession at the end of the first hour, the market firmed again on favorable European news and on heavy short covering which followed announcement of shipment of 50,000 bales to Japan. Prices advanced to 9.39 and March to 9.30, or 31 to 33 points above yesterday's close.

Later, the market eased off on profit-taking at mid-morning, December to 8.96 and March to 9.3-5, down 10 to 12 points from the top but around noon prices moved upward again to 9.10 for December and 9.27 for March, at these levels showing net gains of 31 to 33 points. The first autumn accompanied a rally in stocks.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (AP)—Wheat values turned upward in the grain pits at the opening today, and later became relatively steady as a general gain of about two cents. Buying was based largely on optimism of trade leaders that setbacks in grain values had been excessive, and that rallies were overdue.

Opening 2 1-8 to 4 2-8 cents up, wheat later reacted to below the initial quotations, and then fluctuated rapidly. Corn started 1-2 to 1 1-4 cents up, and subsequently rose further.
